

Reports & Needs Review — Warehouse Wizard

For Jordan Rogers — Admin & Manager access. Updated September 12, 2026.
Where the daily logs live, and how items get fixed when a crew entry is unclear.

Where reports live right now

Reports tab	New top-level tab in the sidebar (mobile: bottom bar), sitting just before Admin. Visible to Admin and Manager accounts. Three sections — Inventory Log, Tremco Log, Daily Log — each with a month picker and an Export button that opens a print-ready page.
Daily Log tab	Its own nav item. For Admin/Manager it opens straight to the full history (month-filterable, newest first) — the crew's entry form is tucked under an "Add a new daily log entry" disclosure below it, so you never scroll past it to find past entries.
Home → Recent activity	Shows the last 6 log entries with a "View all →" link straight into the Daily Log tab.

1. Find a past daily log

Two paths to the same data — use Reports when you want a specific month printed or exported, use the Daily Log tab when you're just checking on something.

A. Open Reports → Daily Log. Pick the month, and every log entry from that month appears — job, service, who completed it, materials installed, and what's left to do next time. An "Export Daily Log" button opens a print-ready version.

B. Or open the Daily Log tab directly. Same history, no export step — useful when you just want to scroll and read. The entry form for adding a new log stays collapsed at the bottom so it doesn't get in the way.

2. How Jordan gets flagged

When a crew member's typed entry doesn't clearly match a real inventory item, it's saved as-is and marked needs review rather than guessed at — nothing gets silently miscounted.

1. The Home screen flags it. Log in and the "Needs attention" strip at the top of Home shows a running count next to "Daily log items need review." Tap the row to jump straight to Admin.
2. Open Admin → Needs review. Each flagged entry shows exactly what the crew member typed — untouched — plus the date, job site, and who logged it. Example: "2 bags Drainstar", Aug 14 2026, North Shore Retaining Wall, C. Nguyen.

3. Match it to a real item and resolve. Pick the correct material from the dropdown, confirm or correct the quantity, optionally note the unit, then hit Resolve. This is the moment the stock count actually updates — flagged entries aren't counted against on-hand quantity until they're resolved.

Monthly deadline: the client has asked for needs-review items to be cleared by the 10th of every month, so the on-hand counts stay accurate for that month's ordering and reporting.
